

6516205831.txt

It is unjust to restrict XM or any other satellite radio provider from providing traffic or weather. This is a service which should be governed fairly. Restricting one form of communications more than another in response to heavy lobbying from special interest groups is harmful to the foundation in which this nation is governed. The right to free enterprise is poignant. Restricting any satellite radio provider would be a socialist move to restrict our right as Americans to free enterprise.